The road work this year was very satisfactory. A piece of permanent work was done on Glen View Avenue, 1000 feet long, which greatly improved that section of the road.

On a number of the main streets, road oil was applied, using 15,987 gallons. This oil not only laid the dust, but helped to maintain the road surface during the long, dry summer months.

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT.

TO THE TRUSTEES OF THE UPTON LIBRARY:—

The librarian herewith submits her sixth annual report, following which are library statistics and catalogue of new books.

During the year books have been purchased and added to the "Dr. Carpenter Alcove" as required.

In April one hundred books donated by townspeople for the Merchant Marine were forwarded to the Boston Public Library.

Sixty photographs of "Our National Parks" loaned by the Woman's Education Association were on exhibition during the month of July.

In August a reading club met each Wednesday afternoon at the library. The total attendance was 48; total number of books read by the members 59.

During "Children's Book Week" in November, the new books purchased for boys and girls were on display. Thursday afternoon of that week the Superintendent and teachers visited the library. At the suggestion of Mr. Cole, lists of the library's resources in literature, history, biography and travel were made for use at the High School. This work was done by Emma Bowker, Sylvia Hall and Helen Nelson.

State Certificates for reading five books have been given to the following: Shirley Fiske, Edith J. Hilliard, Beatrice Jefferson, William Mack, E. Hamblin Thompson and W. Erben Walters. Honor Certificates for reading twenty books, five of which were non-fiction, have been given to Aubrey Ballou and Lillian Crooker.

The book deposit in the store of Mrs. Beaman has been much used and Mrs. Beaman's kindness has been greatly appreciated by the residents of West Upton.

During December plans were completed for opening a branch library in West Upton to take the place of the deposit.

A room was rented in Sharpe's block and a new electric light installed. About two hundred volumes were taken from the Main Library and some new ones purchased. This branch will be open on Tuesday and Friday from four to eight o'clock p. m. and the librarian will be in charge. It is hoped that in this way the resources of the Main Library may be made more nearly available to all residents of the town.

During the year gifts have been received from the following named persons and organizations:—

Alpha Portland Cement Co., American Woolen Co., Wilmer Atkinson Co., Bancroft Memorial Library, Misses Lizzie and Lydia Ball, 2 books, Miss Antoinette Batchelor, 2 books, Boston Chamber of Commerce, Boston Public Library, Columbia University, Elbert H. Gary, Otto H. Kahn, Mrs. Harold Knowlton, magazine subscription, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Near East Relief, Northeastern University, Our Dumb Animals, Rev. William G. Poor, 10 books; Mrs. Mary W. Tileston, Salvation Army, United States Government, United States Shipping Board, Worcester Art Museum, Worcester Polytechnic Institute.

In closing, the librarian would express her grateful appreciation to the trustees for their continued help and co-operation.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the School Committee of Upton:—

I am pleased to present my third annual report, and with it reports of the Principal of the High School, Supervisors and School Nurse.

SCHOOL COSTS.

A recent report of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching has caused much discussion of the costs of public education. The following table regarding public education in the country as a whole is taken from the above-mentioned report:—

	1890.	1920.
Total cost of public education,	140 million	1 billion dollars
Total teachers' salaries,	98 million	480 million dollars
Total enrollment,	13 million	22 million dollars
Total high school enrollment,	200,000	2,000,000 plus
Total national income,	12 billion	66 billion
		(38 billion in 1890 values)

The above shows that in thirty years the cost of public schools increased 614 per cent, while the enrollment as a whole increased 69 per cent, and the national income increased 450 per cent. The statement given above should be explained in the light of the three main causes of increased costs. They are:—

1. Increased enrollment, particularly in the high schools, which is ten times as great as in 1890, and where costs of instruction are at least twice those in elementary schools
2. Increased costs due to the depreciation of the dollar. Since 1890 the depreciation of the dollar, as measured by its ability to purchase labor and commodities, is variously estimated at from 50 per cent to 67 per cent. George D. Strayer of Columbia, who has made an exhaustive study of school costs, has stated that, so far as the costs of education go, a dollar now will purchase not more than one-third what it would in 1890.

3. Increased efficiency due to

- a. Better trained and better paid teachers; fewer pupils per teacher and consolidation of schools.
- b. Better buildings.
- c. Additions to curriculum—courses in business, sciences, domestic arts, drawing, music, shop-work, etc., trade and industrial schools.
- d. Various agencies to safeguard the health and promote the physical development of the pupils.

The following table is given on the authority of Payson Smith, and shows that when the above factors are taken into consideration the costs in 1920 were not greater than in 1890:—

Year.	Cost of public education — elementary and high schools.	Increase over 1890	Amount of increase chargeable to Increased Attendance.	Depreciation of dollar.	Increased efficiency.
1890.	$ 140,000,000
1900.	214,964,618	$ 74,457,903	$ 56,202,686		$18,255,217
1910.	426,250,434	285,743,719	116,620,573	$ 82,280,732	86,842,414
1920.	1,045,053,830	904,546,830	105,304,333	638,040,991	71,201,506

The following comparison of costs and enrollment in Upton schools, 1914-1922 may be of interest:—

	1914.	1922.	Percent of increase 1914-1922.
Total cost,	$9,000	$22,893	126
Transportation,	1,235	3,092	150
Repairs,	365	486	19
Fuel and Janitors,	1,645	2,787	69
Teachers,	4,466	12,400	178
Books—supplies	548	1,563	185
Health,		525
Average membership	314	307
Number of weeks per year:
H. S.	40	40
Elem.	36	40	8.2
Av. weekly salary of all teachers,	10.85	27.27	151

There has been a great increase in the cost of our schools since 1914, the year of the beginning of the World War. At that time the schools had been consolidated for many years and there has been no fundamental reorganization since. During that time the percentage of increased cost has been 126 per cent. The number of weeks per year increased 8 per cent, so that on the basis of cost per pupil per week the increase has been 116 per cent. During that time prices in general have increased about 100 per cent. The cost for nurse and physician accounts for a part of the remainder of the increase.

Over half the increase in school costs since 1914 has been for increase in teachers' salaries, the need of which has been before the public for some time and needs no further discussion at this time. If it were possible to secure teachers on a salary basis bearing the same relation to pay of other workers as the salaries of 1914 bore to the pay of other workers at that time; if our schoolhouses were returned to the condition in which they were then; if we were to eliminate the additional things we are doing now to safeguard the health and increase the educational opportunities of our pupils, the present cost of our schools would be greater than that of 1914 only so much as is accounted for by the decreased purchasing power of the dollar.

We do not wish to return to conditions as they were. After all the true basis for determining the amount to be spent for public education is not by a comparison of costs, since changed conditions make it impossible to do this in a way that convinces everyone, but by an inquiry into the efficiency and practicability of present day education. To quote from the Carnegie report: "A democracy ought to supply generously the funds for the support of its system of education. It needs, however, at each step to assure itself that the education which it is giving its children and youth through its tax-supported system is sincere and adapted to the training of citizens."

CENTER SCHOOL.

The need of a better schoolhouse for the Center, which has been under discussion for two or three years, is emphasized by the following letter from Burr F. Jones of the State Department of Education, dated December 22, 1923.

"I was glad of the opportunity to make a brief visit to the schools of Upton. It was gratifying to find the schools so well consolidated, well organized and in the hands of well-trained teachers. All of these conditions make for effective work.

"It is apparent that the outstanding need in the elementary schools is better housing conditions for the children at the Center. I understand that this situation has already been taken under consideration by the town.

"The Center building is old and falls far short of meeting modern sanitary requirements. The lighting provisions are atrocious, not only from the standpoint of the location of windows in the class rooms, but from the standpoint of the amount of light admitted to each room. In the two rooms down stairs there is less than one-half of the amount of light required, and in the upstairs room, hardly more than one-third.

"The toilet conditions are primitive and unwholesome. There is no running water available for cleansing or drinking purposes. The upstairs room has no adequate means of ventilation.

"I think the decision not to remodel this building was eminently wise. Laying out large sums of money on old school buildings is, in my opinion, an uneconomical use of public funds if the long-run results are to be considered. In my opinion it will require a new building to meet the situation adequately. I am sure your committee is right in placing before the citizens of Upton a new building at the Center as the most important and immediate need of your schools. With this need supplied, Upton would have excellent accommodations for its elementary school pupils."

ATTENDANCE.

In the year ending in June, 1921, the percentage of attendance was 89.3; for the year ending June, 1922, 90.47, and in the year ending June, 1923, 91.4, the latter percentage being somewhat better than the average for the State in similar towns. There has also been a decided decrease in the number of tardinesses, particularly in the High school, the latter having fallen from about 4 per cent to less than 2 per cent.

RETARDED PUPILS.

The 1922 report called attention to the percentage of retarded pupils in the elementary grades and the state law which requires that any town having ten or more pupils three years or more retarded in mental development shall establish special classes for their instruction. Since the 1922 report was written we have received the findings of the examiners from Worcester State Hospital, who have examined 13 average pupils in the Upton schools. They reported that of those examined 9 pupils were three years or more retarded in mental development. Under the law, the town is not required to establish special classes.

STANDARD TESTS.

In the appendix I give a summary of Standard Tests given in May, 1922, and May and June, 1923. These show very satisfactory progress but I wish to call attention, particularly to the progress shown in ability to spell. In the fall of 1922 spelling tests were given from grade II through grade VIII, the words being selected from the Iowa spelling scale; 125 words were dictated—25 words each day for 5 days,—to pupils in grades II-IV inclusive; 250 from the same scale were dictated, 50 words each day for five days to pupils in grades V-VIII inclusive. The words given to grades II-VII were of 68 per cent difficulty. That is to say that pupils in the schools where these tests have been given have obtained an average of 68 per cent on these same words in their various grades. The words given to the VIIIth grade were of 78 per cent difficulty for that grade. In May and June 1923, another test of words of the same difficulty was given in the same way. The test given in June, 1923, was a decided gain over the one given in the fall of 1922, the average per cent gained being 44 in grade II, 22 in grade III, 20 in grade IV, 16 in grade V, 11 in grade VI, 15 in grade VII and 16 in grade VIII. While the majority of pupils are not yet up to standard the progress made is to me very gratifying.

HEALTH.

Last year during the winter months, cocoa was served pupils at each of the schools under the general direction of Miss Hutton, school nurse. A play was given to raise funds, the charge for the cocoa being not enough to pay the expense. The total expense of serving cocoa for supplies and expense of making was $127.95, total receipts from schools, $56.06—making a deficit of $71.89. The receipts from the entertainment were sufficient to cover this and leave a balance of $21.47. For the present year we are modifying the plan somewhat, to see if it cannot be made self-supporting.

Miss Hutton reports :

MUSIC.

Miss Bergin reports :

"The work for the past year has been very satisfactory, All grades are doing practically the required work.

"The first aim in the development of music, is to arouse the children's interest in music. To obtain this result an abundance and variety of song material is indispensable. In selecting songs special attention has been given, not only to the attractive elements of the melody, but to the subject matter of the poem, which should appeal to the child's imaginative nature, and be within his comprehension.

"In the first year the work is confined wholly to the singing of songs of this nature, and all are taught by imitation.

"In the second and third years this work continues with a slight introduction to a few technical points in sight reading.

"The real theory begins in the fourth year, also two-part songs, when conditions will permit.

"Throughout the fifth and sixth years, the independent power in sight reading and interpretation is to be realized. Here the children are ready for drill, and application of the theoretical principles. Three part songs are begun at the end of the sixth year.

"The seventh year work involves the higher steps in music, namely major and minor mode distinguished in songs, scale building and key relations. Musical interpretation is emphasized.

"In the High School the work which consists of chorus singing of fifty minutes a week, deserves the highest praise. The spirit and response given are gratifying."

DRAWING.

Miss Ball reports :

"My previous report could cover only the work of a few months, but this my second, is for the school year, forty weeks.

"We did no extra work, call it show work if you will, for the school exhibit which was placed on the walls of the small hall at the time of the Fair held in September. With assistance, the best work done through the year in Grades I-VII inclusive was mounted on large sheets of card board and hung as best it could be for the visitors of the hall to see. Each child was not represented because the space would not permit it.

"The sewing of the seventh grade, which consisted of bags, pin cushions and needle books, were displayed on a table. There was also displayed a unique alphabet crib quilt which had been made by the combined efforts of the pupils and myself.

"The actual visits made by me are only twenty in each building, Knowlton and Centre. Twenty drawing lessons and twenty sewing lessons in the seventh grade.

"A day's work for a drawing teacher could be well spent each week visiting each building once a week or extending the work into the eighth grade."

MANUAL TRAINING.

Mr. Stanley reports :

"Manual training is offered as usual to the seventh and eighth grades and we have been able, by having a few extra benches, during the eighth grade period, to allow some of those most interested in this work in the ninth grade to take this subject.

"There are seventeen boys in the seventh grade. These boys have Manual Training every other Monday morning. They are interested and are working on the third problem which is as far advanced as they should be at this time of the school year.

"The eighth grade are working on the following projects: Bookcases, curved leg tables, foot stools, costumers and some new projects. They are working hard and show good ability. This class receives instruction every other Monday afternoon. Since there are only eight boys in this class, some of the ninth grade boys take this subject during the same period. They are working on more advanced problems and are doing well.

"This work should be offered to the high school but in order to do this, more time will have to be given."

CONCLUSION.

I wish to thank the Committee and the town's people generally for their continued support.

Respectfully submitted,

ALBERT S. COLE.

REPORT OF THE HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL.

Mr. Albert S. Cole. Superintendent of Schools:

Dear Sir:

I take pleasure at this time in submitting to you my second annual report.

The total membership in the senior high school has become sixty-five which makes six more pupils than have been present at any period since I came here. Only three members have left school this fall. Two of these intend to return in the near future. Every seat in the main room is occupied at the present time.

The teachers have worked incessantly toward a more perfect attendance in the high school. The way in which most of the pupils and parents have responded to their efforts is very gratifying. Last year in spite of an unusually severe winter, Christine Pirie, Emma Bowker and Dorothy Young had a perfect record of attendance for the year. At graduation, last June, the members of the School Board presented to Miss Pirie a gift in appreciation of her unusual record which included a perfect attendance for the entire four years of her high school course.

This fall a large number have had a perfect attendance record to date. The list according to classes is as follows:

Emma Bowker	Helen Fitzpatrick
Dorothy Young	William Nelson
Eileen Corbett	Gladys Orff
Sylvia Hall	Ardell Page
Robert Dearth	Louise Monroe
Helen Crooker	Lillian Nelson
Allan Donham	Geraldine Ogden
Margaret Fitzpatrick	Ona Rawson

In the last few years Upton, like many other towns is paying more attention to vocational training in the high school. The commercial course which was started two years ago is developing satisfactorily and should help many worthy pupils who cannot obtain a higher education. Mr. Stanley, who has charge of the manual training, although spending but one day in two weeks here is doing an unbelievable amount of good by training the younger pupils to make articles quickly and skillfully, while Miss Ball is a very efficient instructor of drawing to the seventh grade girls. Miss Bergin, too, in slightly over a year has had remarkable success in welding the high school pupils into a responsive and commendable Glee Club.

It seems to me that this success which is the result of earnest efforts on such a small scale would be even more satisfactory if a little additional time could be spent on this work. If the town could secure Mr. Stanley and Miss Ball for longer periods of time, the manual training could be extended to include the ninth grade while another class in drawing could be arranged which would be elective to high school pupils. It is my belief that the slight extra expense which this arrangement would require would be money well invested.

In addition to baseball last spring the boys participated in a cross country run at Hopedale. Last September an invitation was extended to this high school to become a member of the tri-county league which includes Hopedale and Holliston. Later in the fall the girls competed in a track meet at Sherborn—the first time that girls from this school have taken part in an interscholastic contest for several years. The school has hoped to compete in basketball, but thus far has been unable to do so through lack of a building in which to play. The town hall at Upton Center would be an excellent place and recently the selectmen have given their consent to use it for this purpose.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank the people of Upton for their increased interest in the schools. During Education Week many people took the opportunity to call at the various schools. We hope that they will plan to come again and that others will follow their example.

Respectfully submitted,

EVERETT L. WENTWORTH,

Principal.
