LIBRARIAN'S REPORT.

TO THE TRUSTEES OF THE UPTON LIBRARY:—

The librarian herewith submits her eighth annual report, following which are library statistics and catalogue of new books.

During the year books have been purchased and added to the "Dr. Carpenter Alcove" as required.

The books and National Geographic Magazines left at the library by townspeople, in response to an appeal from the Merchant Marine, were forwarded to Boston, in April, for the American Merchant Marine Library Association.

The kindness of the Worcester Public Library in loaning books has enabled this library to meet requests for special books.

Attention is called to the fact that the latest (1925) edition of Webster's New International Dictionary may be consulted at the library.

The branch library in West Upton was closed during July and August and since the first of September has been opened but once a week, on Fridays. Because of an epidemic of measles and grippe, both main library and branch were closed for a week in February. To these closings are probably due in part the decrease in the circulation for the year.

Since April, whenever school has been keeping, the branch has been opened on Fridays before 3.30 o'clock that the pupils of the Knowlton School might borrow books on their way home. The eagerness with which the pupils have made use of this privilege has been gratifying and the fact that eight State Certificates were received this year by this school compared with two in 1924 shows one result.

Children's Book Week was observed by a display of new books for children at the library, and with exercises in Grange hall on Saturday, November 14th. The program consisted of essays "My favorite book" read by Gladys Clark, Shirley Fiske, Helena Goodridge, Arthur Fairbanks and Edward Prentiss; a chorus by members of the center school, a solo by Peter Ladas, and a play "Live and learn" written by Alice Lyons with parts taken by Esther Judd, Gladys Kelley, Alice Lyons, Joseph Kearnan and Carl Walters. The State Certificates for reading were presented by Dr. Capen and the book "The Flying Carpet" was presented by Mrs. Hall to the George S. Ball school for having the highest percent of State Certificates compared with the number of pupils.

The following are the names of those who received the State Certificates:

Honor certificates (20 books read, 5 of which were non-fiction):

Esther Judd, Edward Prentiss, Harold Walters, Milo Welch.

Three five-book certificates, (15 books read):

Gladys Kelley, Alice Lyons.

Two five-book certificates, (10 books read):

Laura Donais, Shirley Fiske, Mary Sadler.

Five-book certificates:

Frank Abromowich, Earl Brown, Dorothea Burhoe, Gladys Clark, Beatrice Donais, Arthur Fairbanks, Helena Goodridge, Shirley Goodridge, Earl Jacobson, Fern Jacobson, Carrie Jefferson, Joseph Kearnan, Robert Swan, Astrid Swanson, Harry Usher, Carl Walters, Harold Walters, Lois Wood.

Gifts have been received from the following named persons and organizations: Alpha Portland Cement Co., Bancroft Memorial Library, Boston University, Canada, Department of the Interior, Dr. S. R. Capen, Columbia University, Geo. H.

Doran Co., Irving Fisher, Ford Motor Co., Friends Peace Comm., Thomas F. Hall, Livermore & Knight, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Northeastern University, Our Dumb Animals, Mrs. Pellett, Prospect Union Educational Exchange, George L. Raymond and his publishers G. P. Putnam's Sons, R. Sinclair, Geo. R. Stobbs, United States Government, Worcester Art Museum.

With grateful appreciation for the support of the Trustees, especially for the co-operation of those members of the Board, who by their presence and assistance contributed so much to the new venture during Children's Book Week.

Respectfully submitted,

HELEN A. FAY,

Librarian.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

---

TO THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE OF UPTON :—

I am pleased to present this, my fifth annual report, and with it reports of the Principal of the High School Supervisors and Nurse.

ATTENDANCE.

Below is a table giving statistics of attendance for the past five years:

	Average Membership	Percent. of Attendance	Percent. of Tardiness
1920-21	279	89.3	1.60
1921-22	307	90.4	.61
1922-23	311	91.4	.74
1923-24	307	90.4	.61
1924-25	319	92.7	.28

This shows a comparatively small change in the total enrollment but a decided change in per cent. of attendance and punctuality. During 1920-21, there was an average of thirty pupils absent every day of the school year while in 1924-25 this number was reduced to twenty-three although the total enrollment had been increased by forty. The percent of tardiness in 1920-21 was 1.60 which means that at every session, morning and afternoon, there was an average of five pupils coming in tardy. Last year this has been reduced to an average of less than one pupil tardy each session. In years past the high school pupils have been the greatest offenders as to punctuality. Last year their record compared favorably with the record of the elementary schools. One of the greatest causes of poor attendance is the prevalence of epidemics of children's diseases among the very young pupils. Last year there was less absence on this account than for many years before.

STANDARD TESTS.

In the appendix will be found a comparison of the results of tests given last year with the results of those given four years ago. There has been a decided improvement in the ability of the pupils to spell, and a considerable improvement in the ability of pupils to use the fundamental processes in arithmetic. They were at the last test somewhat above the standards of similar children elsewhere. In reading and problem analysis the progress made has not been as great, the pupils not doing quite as well as they do elsewhere.

HIGH SCHOOL.

Since 1921 the following courses have been added to the high school curriculum:

Introductory business,	a one year course.
Bookkeeping,	a two year course.
Typewriting,	a two year course.
Commercial Law and Geog.,	a one year course.
Stenography,	a two year course.

This has been done without increasing the number of teachers, by a system of uniting classes so as to reduce the number of classes each year. This has resulted in larger classes and has made necessary a larger equipment of books since a number of courses are given once every two years. The introduction of the new courses has not increased the salary bill but has added considerably to the cost of books and supplies.

COST OF SUPPLIES.

From 1921 to 1924 inclusive there was expended for books and supplies for all the schools the sum of $6,113.83 including the cost of manual training supplies. This includes also the cost of soap, towels, toilet paper, brushes, floor oil, a weighing scale and about $370 for typewriters and tables and repairs for the same. If the cost of the items enumerated above is taken from the total for supplies it leaves an average of $4.03 per pupil per year for books, pencils, paper, and other supplies used in instruction. The state average for these items for the same period was just under four dollars.

THE COMMERCIAL COURSE.

The courses enumerated above have proved very popular despite the fact that the standard has been kept high and the courses have not been easy. During the present year particularly the four typewriters which we own have not been sufficient to allow all the pupils to have what supervision they need from the teacher, since she is necessarily occupied much of her time with other classes. Many pupils have shown a very commendable zeal by taking their turn at the machines after school, at noon and at recess and the teacher has shown commendable zeal by doing a heavy amount of overtime work in order to help these pupils out. In order to keep this department up to its present efficiency it will be necessary to provide at least two additional typewriters.

MANUAL TRAINING.

Mr. Stanley reports:—

"Manual Training is given only in the seventh and eighth grades. There is a large seventh grade which necessitates dividing it into two divisions. The eighth grade is taken in one division. The seventh grade boys receive only one hour and a quarter each two weeks. The eighth grade receives two hours during the same period. This is a very inadequate amount of time for either division. Two hours each week is the least that should be given. This would mean a very small additional expense to the town. Other towns the size of Upton are doing much more and I find upon visiting these departments that even turning lathes are installed.

"The boys of each grade are very much interested in this work and for the amount of time given show good results.

"We have changed the line of projects this year substituting many new ones. Many of the seventh grade are already started on their third problem, a cutting board. The eighth grade boys never construct more than two things during the year as their projects are larger and take much more time to complete.

"There is a fine spirit of industry in the classes. The boys show a great interest in their work and the discipline during the last year has been a negligible factor."

MUSIC.

Miss Bergin reports:—

"In the grades special emphasis has been placed upon individual work in sight-singing and tone quality, to the extent of making chorus work purely secondary.

"Singing in groups of fours, threes, and twos, with the ultimate aim of reaching the individual has created sufficient interest to prove its value. The predominating feature of this year's work has been the ever growing interest on the part of the pupils in all grades.

"In the High School the method is quite the reverse. Here the chorus work is the first consideration, but, in striving for this end, at no time has tone quality been sacrificed.

"Every effort to familiarize the pupils with the standard classics has been made, and, it is hoped, that in the near future music appreciation may be taught in conjunction with the chorus work.

"The teachers have afforded me all possible assistance in this work, and I avail myself of this opportunity to thank them."

DRAWING.

Miss Ball reports:—

"I have continued to make printing one of the important features of the work because this can be such a useful art to the pupil long after he or she leaves school.

"The coming year I hope to take up picture study along with the other work. Through this the pupil will gain knowledge and find great pleasure in knowing about the old masters and modern painters.

"Drawing stimulates an appreciation of beauty in nature and works of art and affords enjoyment and recreation in all walks of life.

"In all education it is of course necessary to have high ideals and this I try to maintain throughout my work although having to adapt them to the limited resources available."

HEALTH.

Below is a very concise, though detailed report of Miss Sandstrom, the School Nurse, whose work is deserving of commendation:

Dr. Capen found school children greatly improved.

CONCLUSION.

The spirit of cooperation in all the schools is the best that I have seen since I have been here. This is to be seen from the high school down through all the grades. For this improvement, praise is due, not only to the parents and pupils but to our good fortune in having a good corps of teachers, with all that that means in personality, skill and devotion to work.

Respectfully submitted,

ALBERT S. COLE.

REPORT OF THE HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL.

---

MR. SUPERINTENDENT AND MEMBERS OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE:—

I hereby submit my second annual report.

School opened on September 9th with an enrollment of 24 in the seventh grade, 35 in the eighth grade, 24 in the ninth, 22 in the tenth, 15 in the eleventh and 12 in the senior class. Making a total of 132 in the building. The attendance this term has shown a great improvement over that of last year. The average attendance for the fall term a year ago was 94.9%. This year it has been 97%, an increase of over 2%. The number of tardiness cases has shown a commendable drop, there having been less cases of tardiness for the four months of this term than in the first month of the term last year. These figures show the presence of a very desirable aim on the part of the parents to have their children in school at all possible times and to have them there on time.

During the summer the exterior of the building and the inside hall walls were painted, adding much to the attractiveness of the plant. That the pupils appreciate a clean building is shown by the fact that up to the present time not a single mark has been found on any newly painted wall. Before the opening of school, also, permanent desks were put in the room at the rear of the main room, replacing the very unsatisfactory movable one-arm chairs. This has been a great improvement and makes the room very useable for commercial work.

There are one or two matters to which attention might well be called at this time. One is the typewriting situation. We have four typewriters for twenty pupils. Fifteen of these pupils are able to get some teaching for forty minutes each week, and the other five can get no regular teaching. If no new typewriters are purchased, the greater number of pupils next year will cause even less instruction to be given per pupil than is given at present. If more time for instruction per pupil is desired, more typewriters are needed. Therefore, I recommend the purchase of three typewriters. The pupils of the school are very much interested in this subject. Before school, at recess and noon time, and after school the typewriters are continually used for school work. The work done is of a very high quality. Last year four medals and ten certificates, designating high achievement in typing were received. With a high degree of interest in typing, and a high quality of work being turned out it seems apparent that the facilities for this department should be increased.

The other matter I have in mind is the desirability of purchasing new reference books for our school library. The modern trend in education is to enrich greatly the fund of knowledge from which the pupil can draw. Our library consists largely of old editions of books no longer usable. The State Department of Education is issuing a list of twenty-five books which should be in every High School Library.

In closing, I should like to comment on the fine school spirit present among the student body, and the attitude of willing cooperation present in the great majority of the parents. I must also at this time express my appreciation of the loyalty and the splendid spirit of our teachers, whose enthusiasm, interest, and energy has been responsible to a great degree for the successful running of the school. And finally, may I thank you Mr. Superintendent and the Members of the School Committee for the many favors you have shown us and for the firm support so necessary for the successful conduct of school affairs.

Respectfully submitted,

STEWART B. ATKINSON.
