WARREN BROOK CONSERVATION AREA FOREST MANAGEMENT UPDATE

The forestry harvest operation at the Warren Brook Conservation Area (WBCA) is scheduled to resume this winter once frozen conditions are present. The operation had to cease due to wet conditions following days of heavy precipitation. Continuing the harvest would have resulted in significant soil rutting. The remaining harvest will occur within the northwest portion of the WBCA although disturbed areas associated with the skidding or logging roads will be restored throughout the harvest area. All trails have been reopened except for the trail indicated in solid red below. The new trail from the Grafton Road parking area is indicated in blue. Thank you for your patience.
